Dear Hiring Manager,

I am a recent graduate from The University Of British Columbia with BA in Philosophy, and a recent graduate from BrainStation in the Web Development Diploma program. During my time in BrainStation, I have built a strong foundation in HTML5, CSS, Javascript, React.js, Node.js, RESTful API, MongoDB, and MySQL. After BrainStation, I have invested a lot of time to improve my technical skills complementing React.js by learning Redux, Typescript, GraphQL, ProgreSQL, and apply them in various projects. Also, getting my first technical certification with AWS as a Certified Cloud Practitioner.

I am a highly motivated and diligent learner. As new technologies emerge every day, it is essential as a developer to possess a growth mindset to keep learning and improving. Right after BrainStation, a CryptoCurrency startup hired me as a Front-End React Native Developer. I had no experience in Native development before this job. However, through consistent and strategized learning, I learned React Native, Expo, and Firebase in two weeks and began developing the company's app. During this employment, I have gained valuable experience and exponentially grown as a front-end developer, especially with React and React Native.

I am readily available via email or phone in order to arrange an interview, and I have attached my resume and the link to my portfolio in my resume. Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions. I appreciate your consideration and look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,
Jason
